

Privacy Policy

The purpose of this Privacy Policy

Robert Damkjaer A/S respects your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains how your personal information is processed and the practice of data collection.

We want to ensure that your personal data is treated in a secure and responsible way.

Which data is collected automatically when visiting www.robertdamkjaer.com ?

When you navigate at our website, our web server collects the following data about the visit and the user:

- Logon date and time
- Your IP-address
- Pages visited and routes
- Various data such as url, bytes and codes

When visiting www.robertdamkjaer.com no extraordinary information is collected – we follow normal procedures as to logging our web server.

What is this data used for?

We collect the above data in order to make statistics and measure traffic on our site – so we are able to improve the website and facilitate your visit.

How personal information is stored

When you fill in our Contact Form, you voluntarily provide personal information – or when you participate in competitions, play games, etc. on our website.

When entering your information, e.g. name and country in connection with online games, this information might be disclosed on a high score list (your personal addresses or e-mails will not be disclosed).

The information you voluntarily send to us, such as your address, e-mail or phone number, will be processed confidentially.

Robert Damkjaer A/S will not transfer or sell your personal information without your consent to third parties.

However, third parties providing certain services to us in connection with www.robertdamkjaer.com will have access to your information when helping us with maintenance of the website, program and information delivering etc.

These third party service providers are obligated to protect personal information on our behalf.